

Grateful is an understatement! We have begun a new chapter at Kingfisher and the excitement is tangible. The vision that has always guided us remains the same; To foster a welcoming place of connection with self, with others, with the earth and with God. I am amazed by the beauty of this land; the colours of green in the tall trees, the mossy rocks and countless birds. I never tire of my walks in the woods (unless the bugs are bad) or of the moon on the water or the lilies in the bay. When newcomers arrive I sense it all again through the look of amazement on their faces or the deeper breath that seems to come almost predictably as they step out of the car. We have been so blessed and we simply want to share. As I walk the grounds two words come to mind; Love and Peace. If we can provide a space to allow for each person to find more peace and know that they are loved, we believe that will spill out into the world and make a difference. When leaders are able to find space to think, rest, pray and are encouraged to live more authentically, they become a powerful force in the world. We are spurred on by the legacy of our past partners, energized by the new partnerships that have joined us, fired up with new ideas for the property, for retreats, leadership development, creative outlets, and community events. Thank you for your encouragement and support in so many ways. We could not do this without you, our community. See you soon.

Welcome Chris, Katelyn and Freddie James

Hello friends and family,

Katelyn, Freddie, and I are from the Peterborough area and have had the pleasure of becoming fast friends within the Kingfisher bay community for a few years. We have always valued our time here and appreciated the reflected presence that this space offers. Over the past year we have been in discussion with Ben and Terry about assisting them in their vision for Kingfisher Bay and have recently just moved here to do just that! We are so blessed and overjoyed to be within this rich community and cannot wait to meet each one of you as we embark together on this restorative journey.

Music has a powerful way of bringing people together with a language of its own. We have been blessed with a beautiful grand piano; a gift from a retreat guest. So much inspiring music has been shared already. We are so thankful and look forward to much more. Stay 'tuned' for our next concert, jam session, song writing workshop, and weekend retreat with Juno award winner singer and songwriter Steve Bell.

The Cabin

Private and serene. This off the grid space offers added simplicity and solitude for day and seasonal overnight use. In winter the wood stove keeps guests cozy and comfortable surrounded by woods and pond.

Kingfisher has a low ropes course and trained facilitators. Activities can be done inside and outside to provide a fun, interactive approach to building team, self-awareness and leadership development.

Kingfisher is also now available for rental for family gatherings and other groups with self catering. But don't fret we can still provide meals thanks to some incredible chefs you will love.

Staff is also available for individual coaching on retreat as well as group facilitation.

Check out our new website. Thank you Heather (and Eddie McMichael), our new board member, bookkeeper, website designer and all around incredible person.
